

The Palais Royal, A. Lisner.

PRICE LIST OF HOME NEEDS.

Where such goods are sold on credit a few low prices are quoted for effect in an advertisement. Buying and selling for prompt cash, low prices are the rule here. One saves from 10 to 20 per cent in buying summer home needs at the Palais Royal.

BEST ECONOMICAL REFRIGERATORS.

An inferior, cheap refrigerator costs more at the credit stores than the best does at the Palais Royal. Not only costs more in money—but more in time and worry. Note how easily cleaned are the Palais Royal refrigerators. Intelligent young men to demonstrate this fact. Go to Basement floor.

WM. J. MILLER DEAD

EXPIRED SUDDENLY AT 2 O'CLOCK THIS MORNING.

Ranked as the Oldest Member of the District Bar in Point of Service.

The death of Mr. William J. Miller, a veteran member of the District bar, occurred about 2 o'clock this morning in his apartments in "The Woodley," on Washington Heights. Mr. Miller, who was in the seventy-fourth year of his age, had not been in good health for several weeks, but when he retired last night he appeared to be as well as usual and in good spirits. At the hour named he received the fatal attack of angina pectoris, and the end soon came. William J. Miller was the oldest member of the District bar in length of practice, with one exception. He was born in Baltimore in 1831, and when twelve years of age came to Washington, where he has resided since. He began life as an employe of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad Company, and while so engaged he studied law and was admitted to the bar and made in continuous practice here until the time of his death. Mr. Miller was connected with several prominent charitable institutions, and was identified with the general growth and prosperity of Washington. He was a main stay of the firm of Atterbury & Co., a kindly disposition, which endeared him to his many friends. He was married to Miss Frances M. Joyce, daughter of the late Andrew J. Joyce, a carriage manufacturer of this city. He is survived by his wife and eight children. The eldest is Mr. A. J. Miller, vice president of the Securities Company of New York and a partner in the banking house of Boissevain & Co. of that city; Mr. W. W. Miller of the New York law firm of Hornblower, Byrne, Miller & Potter; Mr. Norris J. Miller, who is connected with the same law firm; Mr. Robert C. Miller of the New York Security and Trust Company; Mr. Harry J. Miller, who is a student at Cornell; Mr. Lee Miller, and two daughters, Mrs. E. E. Rapley and Mrs. Charles A. McKenny. It is expected that action will be taken this evening or tomorrow by the District Bar Association and the charitable institutions with which Mr. Miller was prominently identified. Arrangements for the funeral will be made this evening.

FUNERAL OF FATHER STERLING.

Solemn High Mass to be Celebrated at St. Matthew's Tomorrow. Arrangements have been completed for the funeral of Rev. J. D. Sterling, assistant pastor of St. Matthew's Roman Catholic Church, whose death at Norfolk, Va., was announced in a special dispatch in the Saturday Star. A solemn high requiem mass will be celebrated at 10 o'clock to-morrow morning at St. Matthew's Church, which will be attended by the Catholic

Rev. James Davenport Sterling, clergy of Washington and of the Baltimore diocese, among whom Father Sterling enjoyed a wide popularity in addition to a large gathering of the members of the parish. Rev. James A. Smyth of Sacred Heart Church will be the celebrant and Revs. George Dougherty and Andrew Carey deacon and subdeacon, respectively. Rev. T. D. Williams is master of ceremonies. Rev. T. Gibbon Smyth will preach the sermon. James Davenport Sterling was born in the little town of Sag Harbor, Long Island, N. Y. His father was a prominent physician there and a leading member of the Episcopal Church. When Dr. Sterling became a Roman Catholic his son James was sent to St. Charles College, Baltimore, where he remained for six years, graduating in the year 1892. At college he displayed exceptional ability, leading his class in every branch. He entered St. Mary's Seminary at Baltimore, where he made a brilliant course and was a universal favorite both with the professors and his fellow students. Father Sterling was ordained June 14, 1898, and was assigned to St. Matthew's Church. This was his only appointment. He is stated to have been loved by the people of the parish, and was particularly fond of little children, into whose sports he entered with the greatest zest. His college chum and brother priest, Rev. T. Gibbon Smyth of St. Stephen's Roman Catholic Church, and a few relatives were with him when he died. It has been stated that there will be no interment. The deceased priest's mother is on her way to Washington from San Francisco, and it is expected that the remains will be consigned to the Golden Gate for final interment.

In Memory of Admiral Beardslee.

A large sarcophagus monument has been purchased by Mrs. L. A. Beardslee, widow of Admiral Lester Anthony Beardslee, U. S. N., for her lot in the Arlington National cemetery. The monument is of large proportions, being nine feet long, six feet wide and five feet six inches high, made of selected Barre, Vt., granite. The large design is to have a receding caryatid into which are to be placed the ashes of Admiral Beardslee. A suitable inscription is to be carved on the front of the monument. The contract for the erection of the work has been signed with the Van Amringe Granite Company of this city.

ON TWO CHARGES.

Dora C. Bryant, Accused of Theft, is Committed to Jail. Dora C. Bryant, colored, was arraigned in the Police Court before Judge Mills this morning to answer one charge of grand larceny and one charge of petit larceny. In the case of the petit larceny, the girl demanded a jury trial and was placed under a $200 bond. In the grand larceny case, she pleaded not guilty and waived examination. She was held to await the action of the grand jury. In default of bond for $1,000 she was committed to jail. The placing of these charges against the girl is the result of a search lasting for two months by Detective Lacey of the detective bureau.

Over a month ago, Mrs. C. S. Walton complained to the police that some lace handkerchiefs had been stolen from her. Detective Lacey was put on the case, and he succeeded in finding the missing property in the possession of one of the servants, Dora Bryant. After they had been recovered, Mrs. Walton asked that she be not prosecuted and the girl was released from custody. A few days ago, however, Mrs. Walton went to her store room to get out some of her summer things, especially some imported linens and laces, which she wished to have made up for the summer, when she discovered that they were gone. She complained again to the police, and Detective Lacey went in search of Dora Bryant. Finally locating her wife she was working, he arrested her. She said that she was not guilty, but when confronted with a part of the stolen property, she admitted taking that, but said that was all she had taken. From searches at different places where she had been, nearly all of the property has been recovered. To get some of it required clever work, but as fast as it was recovered, the girl admitted taking it.

James P. Dixon of Elk Garden, W. Va., is dead as the result of having been crushed by a fall of overhead slate in Mine No. 6, at Elk Garden. Other miners had a narrow escape.
